The diagram illustrates the layout of a postcard with three distinct regions: a central active area, a surrounding trim area, and an outer bleed area. A pink arrow points from the text 'THIS IS THE SAFETY AREA' to a narrow margin within the trim area. A black arrow points from 'TRIM AREA (PAPER SIZE)' to the outer boundary of the trim area. A green arrow points from 'THIS IS THE BLEED AREA' to the outermost boundary of the bleed area. A central white box contains specific dimensions for each area.
